

Dear Sir/Madam,

I am chairing Central Banking's Training course, Central Bank Board: Good Governance, Resilience and Enhanced performance, from September 18–20, 2023.

Expert speakers will join me to cover essential areas such as:

- How central banks' can balance cultural shifts whilst retaining their institutional identity
- The challenges central banks face when adapting policies to address climate change and CBDCs
- How a central bank's board can prepare for potential market disruptions and geopolitical instability

Central banks are facing pressing dynamics such as a higher level of inflation, normalisation of monetary policy, balancing cultural shifts with identity retention and the need to adapt to address climate change and CBDCs.

Central bank boards and executives know the importance of their institutions as leaders and exemplars, domestically and internationally. However, they must prepare for potential market disruptions and the heightened threats of geopolitical and financial instability.

This course will provide participants with:

- A comprehensive understanding of the challenges facing central banks in 2023
- Strategies for adapting policies and structures to address climate change and CBDCs
- Learning on how to balance cultural shifts whilst maintaining identity and credibility in evolving financial landscapes
- Ways to prepare for potential market disruptions and mitigate the risks of geopolitical and financial instability
- Insights into the importance of central banks as leaders and exemplars domestically and internationally

To join the course, please register online or get in touch with the Central Banking Training team: +44 20 7316 9136 / training@centralbanking.com.

I look forward to welcoming you and your colleagues to the course this September.

Kind regards,

Audun Grønn,
Former special advisor to the governor
Norges Bank